

ISCOS ReGen Fund partners Consulus for Transformation of Impact for Children and Families of Reformed Offenders

Singapore, 26 April 2021 – ISCOS ReGen Fund (IRF) and global innovation consultancy firm, Consulus, inked a partnership agreement today with a shared objective to increase impact for children and families of reformed offenders in Singapore.

This partnership cements a Partners for Impact collaboration between the two organisations where Consulus will serve as the strategic partner to guide the transformation of IRF towards greater impact-focused growth and to shape a more inclusive society.

"As part of our purpose to shape a better economy by design, working for the most vulnerable in our midst matters. That is why this project with ISCOS ReGen Fund is vital as part of our effort to shape resilient and inclusive societies. A community is strongest when it can take care of the least." Jim Funk, Global Chairman of Consulus Global Network.

Commenting on the partnership, Alex Yeo, Chairman of IRF Management Board said, "We are excited to have Consulus onboard. With their strategic lens and expertise, we hope this collaboration would bring forth more impact in terms of stakeholder engagement and empower the charity to do more, during and beyond its formative years."

By creating a wholesome experience to engage and involve community members towards collective action, the partnership aims to increase sustainable support and impact for those in need while building strong relationship with its circle of supporters.

About ISCOS ReGen Fund (IRF)

The ISCOS ReGen Fund is a registered charity fund to support children and families of reformed offenders. Through the Fairy Godparent Programme (FGP), the main objective is to prevent intergenerational offending by empowering the children with the opportunity of a complete education and the skills required to be employable and financially independent in future.
